

What are we doing?

This weekend we are knitting in public with freinds and knitting groups to create blanket squares that will be used as bunting for the The Great Get Together. Our knitted squares will then be donated to Knit for Peace.

Where will the squares go?

Our knitted squares will be donated to fistula hospitals across Africa. Fistula is a painful and degrading condition caused by obstructed labour. At specialist clinics women are given life changing operations and provided with a safe environment for child birth, preventing the occurrence of obstetric fistula in the first instance.

Expectant mothers and women recovering from surgery, stitch the squares into blankets for themselves and their babies. This gives them something to do during their rehabilitation, handicraft skills, and the gift of a blanket they can take home with them.

The Jo Cox Foundation was launched in the memory of the murdered MP, Jo Cox. Their initiative, The Great Get Together, celebrates community and what unites us though neighbourhood events. These events might be as small as a picnic or as large as a street party!

Our squares will be used as bunting for The Great Get Together's community events which takes place on the 16th - 18th of June - join your neighbourhood celebration!
